

A HAVEN OF ART AND NATURE IN THE HEART OF THE NORMANDY COUNTRYSIDE

The artist's garden l'Eure tranquille is hidden in a small village south of Évreux in the heart of Normandy. Created ex nihilo on a ground steeped in history, from the Neolithic area to the Allied landings, Engelmarie Sophie, painter-sculptor, began this garden in 2016.

It is an authentic and unclassifiable garden, around the artist's works, inspired by history, in connection with nature : as she says « nature is my master ». The colors, shapes and vagaries of life require permanent adaptation and humility in creation. Painting, sculpture and works on rice paper bear witness to this approach.

From April to October, the garden and the studio are open to the public by appointment for small and large groups, by presenting an exhibition by a guest artist each year.

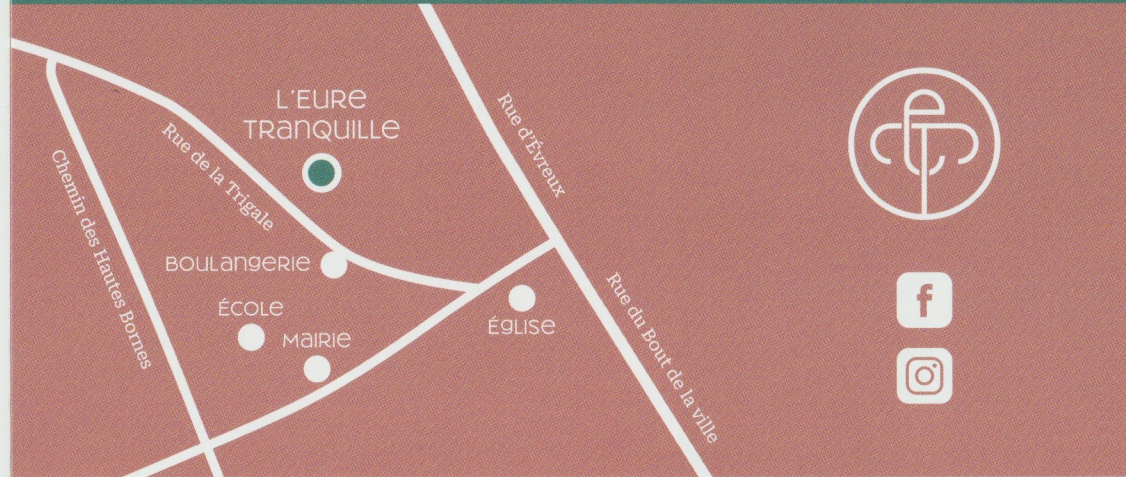

Highlights are also organized, such as concerts, readings, artistic performances or initiations to painting on rice paper.

Welcome to the the garden l'Eure tranquille.
